ALUMNI AND HONORS DAY

College of Environment + Design
UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA
Tunnell’s lecture focuses on the tour of Atlanta’s gardens orchestrated by the Peachtree Garden Club for the 1932 Annual Meeting of the Garden Club of America. The four day tour included visits to nearly 40 gardens on the eve of Modernism while the Great Depression was in full swing. What was viewed as critical to show national movers and shakers? What was overlooked? What was the broader context for the tour and its potential lasting impact on the city and its garden heritage?

SPENCER TUNNELL
LANDSCAPE ARCHITECT

Spencer Tunnell of Atlanta, began his private practice of landscape architecture in 1988. In addition to residential and estate landscapes, Spencer and his firm completed the restoration of the Boxwood Garden at Swan House. In 1998, Spencer’s late wife Lisa Martin joined the firm and they developed a new Master Plan and three phases of implementation for the Atlanta Botanical Garden from 1998–2002. Since 1998, Spencer has worked on the implementation of the Olmsted Linear Park in Druid Hills. In March 2012, the project was awarded the Marguerite Williams Award, the top honor awarded by the Georgia Trust for Historic Preservation, as well as a separate award for Excellence in Rehabilitation. Current work includes the restoration of the Philip Shutze “Goodrum House” landscape, noticeable at the corner of West Paces Ferry and Habersham.

Spencer is past chair of the Atlanta Urban Design Commission, has taught at the School of Environmental Design at the University of Georgia and Georgia State University and serves of the board of Easements Atlanta. He received his degrees in Landscape Architecture and Architecture History from the University of Virginia and worked with landscape architect Edward Daugherty from 1980–1988.

ASHLEY STEFFENS, MLA ‘94

Ashley Steffens is an Associate Professor who has taught graphics, upper level design studios, applied engineering and plant ID in the CED for over 20 years. She has conducted numerous workshops on computer graphics at professional events such as the LA Expo in Long Beach, California and the Landscape Planning Short Course and has presented her research on graphics education and shifting demands in the profession at CELA, EDRA and the International Conference on the Beginning Design Student. Professor Steffens is co-author of a book on computer graphics and has published numerous articles in a variety of publications including Landscape Journal China, International Journal of Education and Human Development, landscapeonline.com and in conference proceedings. She is the managing editor of Landscape Journal. More recently she was invited as a juror for the 2018 ASLA professional awards in research and was elected to serve as President for the Council of Educators in Landscape Architecture. She has just returned from her 3rd trip to teach landscape architecture in the Cortona Study Abroad Program.

2018 Distinguished Alumni Medal

Ed Castro, BlA ‘88

Ed Castro is one of the most loyal alumni of the CED. He has been a generous donor, a friend and mentor to students, faculty, and staff, and he is an outstanding “connector” for this college. He has been a long-standing member of the CED Alumni Association, and now serves as a member of the Dean’s Advisory Council. He regularly participates in the College’s career fairs, portfolio reviews and critique sessions.

Ed’s personal and work philosophy is to promote the benefits of Atlanta residency while creating a more livable community through professional practice, active engagement, leadership, education, and support. Ed focuses his contributions to benefit Atlantans through board involvement and committee participation. Ed focuses on “public spaces versus private gardens” and expanded Ed Castro Landscape’s environmental ideals and practices aggressively. Ed has seen his company grow from being the sole proprietor into a firm that employees 70+ people, with over 20 years of continuous service in the Greater Metro area as one of Atlanta’s leading Design/Build and Landscape Maintenance firms.

DEAN’S AWARDS AND HONORS

2018 Dean’s Award of Honor

Dan Nadenicek, FASLA, served as the dean of the UGA CED for ten years, stepping down this past summer to return to teaching, research, and writing. He has been an editor of Landscape Journal and is president of the Board of Directors of the Library of American Landscape History where he edits the series Critical Studies in the History of Environmental Design. A widely published scholar in the areas of historic preservation, landscape history, and urban design, Nadenicek previously served as chair of the department of planning and landscape architecture at Clemson University and taught at Penn State before that.

His publications include over ninety articles, reviews, reports, and proceedings and he has presented more than seventy-five lectures, papers and panel presentations in North America and Europe. He has reached out to our alumni and helped organize several major national and international conferences and symposia.

At CED, Dan initiated two new degree programs, including the Master of Environmental Planning and Design and the PhD in Environmental Design and Planning.
Dean’s Award for Teaching Innovation

DOUG PARDUE

Doug Pardue is an Assistant Professor at the CED. For the second time in five years, he is being given the Dean’s Award for Teaching Innovation. (He also won this award in 2013.) A graduate of Miami University and the University of Oregon, where he completed his BLA and MLA degrees, Pardue is a proponent of urban ecological design. Post-industrial sublime and environmental psychology are areas of interest as well. Pardue has also led CED students on spirited trips to China, Costa Rica, and Puerto Rico. Most recently, his studio class won the Ted Turner Drive Re-design competition in Atlanta, which was sponsored by the Mayor’s Office of Resiliency.
Dean’s Staff Award

VICKIE POOLE

With over 15 years in financial management for UGA, our Director of Finance Vickie Poole works closely with our Dean and Associate Dean on all budget and financial matters related to the College. Before coming to the CED in 2016, Vickie worked at the Lamar Dodd School of Art. This past year, Vickie has shown extraordinary leadership, time management and supervisory skills by leading the College through a major computer data transition called One Source. This transition often required her to attend lengthy meetings, training sessions and workshops, all while still managing the finances for the College.

CEDAA INCOMING PRESIDENT

MARK SCHISLER, BLA ’90

Mark grew up in the Druid Hills neighborhood of Atlanta. He went to UGA and graduated with a Bachelor of Landscape Architecture in 1990. Mark has worked in the design and installation business where he loves the creation of his designs as much as the design and collaboration. Mark founded Legacy Landscapes, Inc. in 1994 in Marietta, GA. He now owns Legacy Landscape Design, LLC focusing on Residential Design and installations in the North Atlanta areas of Cobb and North Fulton counties. His companies have won numerous awards and honors for landscape design and installations. Mark has two cool kids, Mark Jr. and Ashley Anne. When he is not working, you can find him in his yard, hiking up a mountain, or relaxing with his best friend and partner, Lori.
Donors make these scholarships and awards possible for our students. Thank you for supporting the CED.
