

Marion County, Georgia

Findings

The Center for Community Design and Preservation (CCDP) located within the University of Georgia’s College of Environment + Design (CED) conducted a Phase I historic resource survey of Randolph County, Georgia in July 2008. The project area covered the approximately 364 square miles of unincorporated land within county limits. The county is bordered by Talbot to the north, Taylor to the northeast, Schley to the east, Sumpter to the southeast, Webster to the south, and Chattahoochee to the west.

The resource survey was performed by graduate students in the Masters of Historic Preservation program (MHP) and the Masters of Landscape Architecture program (MLA) at the CED. The survey consisted of background research, windshield and pedestrian field work, data collection and analysis.

Summary

A total of 89 resources were documented that meet and maintain a minimum level of age, integrity, and significance. The construction date of all identified resources range from 1835-1953. The periods with the most extant resources were 1890-1899 and 1900-1909 which both has 21 (26.6%).

Of the resources 63 are buildings and 26 are burial sites. From the buildings surveyed, 28 are vacant, 33 are single family dwellings, 1 is a religious facility, and 1 is a store. Styles identified from the single family dwellings are Craftsman (1), Folk Victorian (2), gGothic Revival (1), Neoclassical Revival (1), and 28 which did not exhibit any type of High Style architecture, and are consider to be of no academic style.
