

Stephens County, Georgia

Findings

The Center for Community Design and Preservation (CCDP) located within the University of Georgia’s College of Environment + Design (CED) conducted a Phase I historic resource survey of Stephens County, Georgia in June 2010. The project area covered the approximately 171 square miles of unincorporated land within county limits. Stephens County is bordered by Franklin to the South, Banks to the southwest, Habersham to the west, and Oconee County, South Carolina to the north. The resource survey was performed by graduate students in the Masters of Historic Preservation program (MHP) and the Masters of Landscape Architecture program (MLA) at the CED. The survey consisted of background research, windshield and pedestrian field work, data collection and analysis.

Summary

A total of 55 resources were documented that meet and maintain a minimum level of age, integrity, and significance. The construction date of all identified resources range from 1816-1954; the period with the most extant resources is from 1890-1909 with 20 (36.4%). The majority of identified resources are single family dwellings (33), with the most common styles being Craftsman (13) and Queen Anne Revival (3). The majority of dwellings (14%) did not exhibit any type of High Style architecture, and are considered to be of no academic style. There were 15 identified cemeteries in the county, which constituted 27.3% of the resources found in Stephens County.
