

Walker County, Georgia

Findings

The Center for Community Design and Preservation (CCDP) located within the University of Georgia’s College of Environment + Design (CED) conducted a Phase I historic resource survey of Walker County, Georgia in June 2009. The project area covered the approximately 420 square miles of unincorporated land within county limits. The county is bordered by Tennessee to the north, Catoosa to the northeast, Whitefield to the east, Gordon to the southeast, Floyd and Chatooga to the south, Dade to the west, and Alabama to the southwest.

The resource survey was performed by graduate students in the Masters of Historic Preservation program (MHP) and the Masters of Landscape Architecture program (MLA) at the CED. The survey consisted of background research, windshield and pedestrian field work, data collection and analysis.

Summary

A total of 93 resources were documented that meet and maintain a minimum level of age, integrity, and significance. The construction date of all identified resources range from 1806-1964. There were equal numbers of resources extant from the 1900s through the 1940s. Resources tapered off at either end of that range. Of the resources 72 are buildings, 19 are burial sites, and 2 are districts associated with ecotourism. From the buildings surveyed, 7 are vacant, 62 are single family dwellings, 1 is a religious facility, and 1 is a restaurant. Styles identified from the single family dwellings are Craftsman (25), Folk Victorian (12), a single Queen Anne Revival, and 27 which did not exhibit any type of High Style architecture, and are consider to be of no academic style.
